

What price do you put on saving lives?

Invest in a vertical rescue system you can trust. "Trust" means...

A system you know will work properly, even if something goes wrong.

The DEUS 3100 is the ONLY vertical rescue system with four independent, redundant brakes for safety and reliability.

A system that's fully hands-free.

The DEUS 3100 operates hands free in "stop" or "go" mode so you can safely descend or remain suspended with your hands free to work or carry items.

A system that's lightweight and small enough to carry.

The DEUS 3100 weighs just 0.9kg and is small enough to fit in a gear pocket.

A system as tough as conditions demand.

Heavy-duty construction means your DEUS 3100 will be with you for years.

A system that includes training.

The DEUS 3100 includes "train the trainer" training, so you can carry it into a fire with confidence.

A system that doesn't allow free fall, no matter how it is used.

The DEUS 3100 includes a precision-machined German centrifugal brake that automatically protects against free fall.

A system you can use to save yourself and others, easily.

The DEUS 3100 lets you switch between bailout or victim rescue without re-rigging. Evacuate three people from a fourth-floor window in less than one minute.

A system you can carry with you, ready to go in seconds.

The DEUS 3100 can be carried pre-rigged in either "stop" or "go" mode. Just set your anchor and jump.

A system you can train with, time after time after time...

The DEUS 3100 is designed for both emergency use and for repetitive training – just retire the rope, not the whole system!

When making decisions about which vertical rescue solution is right for your department, consider what you're getting for your dollar.

You'll find the DEUS 3100 is your best bet for safety and reliability. That's because the 3100 has redundant brakes and protects from free fall, operates hands free, is incredibly easy to use, fits in your pocket, is firefighter tough and versatile, and includes DEUS Rescue training.

You need a personal emergency bailout system you can trust when lives are on the line...so your expense is really an investment in saving lives. You need DEUS Rescue.

When lives are on the line, trust DEUS Rescue.
